

HFMA LONE STAR CHAPTER – 2010 SUMMER INSTITUTE
THE CHARACTER OF LEADERSHIP

Presentation by: Sandra A. Shelton

Leadership with character is a consistent walk with development. It is the art of liberation and relationship weaving that renews itself, amazes itself, and takes delight in its practitioners. Benchmarking and exploring these essentials can bring encouragement and refinement, that is, further development, the continuing pursuit of excellence.

– Sandra Shelton

“The main ingredient of good leadership is good character. This is because leadership involves conduct and conduct is determined by values.”

– Gen. Norman Schwarzkopf

Sandra Shelton is founder of The StrengthBank® Companies and Executive Director for StrengthBank Inc., a nonprofit that recruits people like you from the local community to mentor 2 times a month during lunch at your local high school. For over two decades Sandra has presented over 2500 speeches and seminars nationwide and in 13 foreign countries. Her ingenious, one-of-a-kind, leadership and communication strategy – StrengthBank® Communication WorkOuts® has improved the working the relationship culture of hundreds of organizations.

Web sites: www.sandrashelton.com
www.talkgroups-mentors.org
817 230 4523 Direct to Sandra
Email: sandra@sandrashelton.com

Living It Out

Meaningful leadership comes from who we are - an inside-out job inextricably linked to character.

M
From

Through

To

The main thing that comes through the leadership with character is not the work completed, but the relationship we work out to others to create an atmosphere of liberation - that renews itself, amazes itself, and takes delight in its practitioners

A Personal, Not Positional Daily WorkOut

Impartation not imitation - The character of leadership can never be divorced from the individual. You cannot impart to others what you do not possess, that is, what is not developed within you. Imitation ultimately destroys credibility, i.e., the relationship.

Small Moments vs Show-Stopper moments

Mind-Heart-Lips Connection

Mental focus: There is a song here...

Beginning now...

The character of leadership is that it liberates others to do what is required of them in the most effective and humane way possible. (Adapted: Leadership Is An Art - Max Depree)

